

Sponsorship Opportunities in the Lukens National Historic District

The Graystone Society was created in 1984 to assist the City of Coatesville with municipal improvement and economic development through historic preservation. With its acquisition of two major landmark properties, the Society has firmly established its mission of recognizing, conserving, and promoting Coatesville's considerable architectural and cultural heritage. The city remains a vital center of America's historic iron and steel industry. The Graystone Society is part of the Lukens National Historic District and the future National Iron and Steel Heritage Museum.

The Graystone Society hosts several events throughout the year where you can be an important participant. Your generous support continues to make these exciting events available to the public in the Lukens National Historic District.
